

GEORGE LEWIS, MACLEOD, MEETS DEATH BY ACCIDENTAL DISCHARGE OF SHOT GUN WHILE HUNTING

A fatal shooting accident occurred on Monday morning, November 3rd, on the road about 8 miles east of Macleod and 3 miles west of Robert McNab's ranch at Slide Out, the dead body of George Allen Lewis, chemist, employed in the Rexall Store, Macleod, being found at 6.30 p.m. by a young farmer named George Anderson. Mr. Anderson went to the McNab ranch and phoned for the police at Macleod. Corporal Vise, A.P.P., accompanied by Chief Pringle and Coroner Grady, went out and found the body lying on the road near the deceased's car with the gun about two feet distant, and the deceased had a gunshot wound on the left side over the heart. Mr. Lewis had borrowed the gun from Mr. Zoeteman, at Pearce, early in the morning to go shooting, and a box of shells was found in the car.

Coroner Grady held an investigation later in the evening at the police court and decided that an inquest would not be necessary as the deceased had evidently come to his death by accident.

George Allen Lewis was the only son of the late Rev. Dr. W. A. Lewis and of Mrs. Lewis now of Edmonton, and formerly of Macleod, and leaves a wife and two young children, the youngest being about 4 months old. Much sympathy is extended to the young wife and her mother and sisters as the Lewis family was so well and favorably known in Macleod and district.

The Funeral

Very seldom has such a large concourse of sympathetic friends been seen at a Macleod funeral as was seen on Wednesday afternoon at the service for the deceased.

The Lewis family was so well known in Macleod and district, having lived here for 8 years when the father, the late Rev. Dr. W. A. Lewis, was minister of the Methodist church for two terms, that the sympathy of the entire district goes out to the bereaved young wife and two little children, to the mother and two sisters.

The Rev. J. F. Knight, pastor of the United Church, conducted the service, assisted by the choir, and interment took place in the Union Cemetery.

About 30 cars followed in the cortege to the cemetery.

The mourners present were: Mrs. Lewis, the widow; Mrs. Lewis, Edmonton, the mother of the deceased; Mrs. W. Brownlee, Edmonton, a sister; Mrs. Mallet, Edmonton, a sister; Dr. Mallet, a brother-in-law; Mrs. Kennedy, Mountain Park, mother of deceased's wife; and Miss Kennedy, his wife's sister.

There were many beautiful floral tributes from sympathizers and mourning friends.

The pall bearers were: Dr. W. R. Haig, J. Griffin, L. Griffin, I. Zoeteman, V. Goe and E. Thompson.

LABOR GOVERNMENT REFUSES TO IMPOSE DUTY ON WHEAT — PREMIER MACDONALD MAKES DEFINITE ANNOUNCEMENT AT OPENING OF BRITISH PARLIAMENT

London, Oct. 28.—(By Canadian Press Cable) — Premier Ramsay MacDonald announced in the House of Commons this afternoon that the Labor government was not prepared to put a tariff on wheat. "We cannot do it," he said.

Thus the government officially put an end to any hopes that Canadian or other dominions' wheat products would receive a tariff preference on the British market. His announcement definitely restricted the possibilities to some system of bulk purchasing or quota arrangement which would favor the dominions as against foreign wheat growers.

The prime minister was discussing the Imperial Conference during the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne.

He said that when the British government asked how it could help the dominions, the first thing every premier said was "tax wheat."

"We could not do it," declared Mr. MacDonald. H. C. Charlton, Labor, Leeds South, who opened the debate, pointed out the "difficulties facing the conferees."

At said all proposals should be examined in the view of what was in the best interests of the whole commonwealth.

BRAZIL CONSTRUCTS NEW GOVERNMENT UNDER DR. VARGAS

Rio Janeiro, Nov. 1.—(A.P.)—This capital today shed the carnival attire it donned yesterday to receive Dr. Getulio Vargas, new Brazilian chief of state, and turned to the serious business of cementing revolutionary gains and constructing a new government.

In all this Dr. Vargas, newly arrived from Sao Paulo and the Paranao Paulo border fighting front, was the central figure. He still lacked official title but his authority was recognized, and it was felt assured some way, considered legal, would be found to place him in the office vacated by deposition of Dr. Washington Luis.

The problem was complicated by the former president's refusal to resign. He is still confined in the officers' quarters of the Copacabana fortress and insists upon serving out his term, which expires Nov. 15.

WILSON COMMISSION RECOMMENDS LETHBRIDGE NORTHERN RATES BE SLASHED TO $28.00 PER ACRE—AND LOWER IN MACLEOD SECTION

Recommending that the province of Alberta "take its loss" on the Lethbridge Northern irrigation district, the Wilson Commission, which has been inquiring into the financial situation of the water users on that project for the past two months has made its report to the government.

The report, released for publication on Tuesday by Premier Brownlee, recommends in a word that the cost of the water right to the farmers on the Lethbridge Northern project be cut approximately in two—or a valuation of about $28.00 per acre to be placed on this right.

In the case of land to be sold including the land and the water right the average cost recommended by the commission is placed at about $35.00 per acre as against the present $70.00 figure which obtains.

As the actual construction cost of the water right, plus accrued charges, is now well over $55.00 per acre, it will be seen that the $28.00 water right figure recommended means a cutting in two of the cost to the settler on the land.

In the Macleod section of the project a water right charge of about $18.00 per acre is recommended.

The bonds of the district, guaranteed by the provincial government, approximate a total of $5,500,000.00. If the settlers on the project are to be relieved of half these charges, it means that some $2,750,000.00 will become a charge against the general debt of the province, and will be assumed by the people as a whole.

Another important recommendation of the commission is that the style of contract for the land plus the water right should be greatly simplified on the Lethbridge Northern, bringing it into line with the simple amortization plan used by the C.P.R. and Canada Land and Irrigation Company projects in this province, this providing that the equity of the farmer in his land is built up by successive payments, whereas, at present, land and water rights are considered as separate contracts on the Lethbridge Northern.

Heights School, was a visitor to Macleod on Saturday last.

The woods are full of deer hunters in their white uniforms—Bill Dunbar and Lee Elgin are among the successful ones.

THE FARMER AND PROSPERITY

Premier Tardieu of France ascribes the present stability of his country to the support and encouragement rendered by the French Government to the farmer.

"The farmer's case," says the premier, "is the basis of our whole social life."

The Canadian Government might take a hint from Tardieu's statement with regard to the secret of prosperity and stability in Canada.

Any nation's backbone is its soil production. And this is particularly true in a country like Canada, where so large an area is devoted to agriculture.

With wheat at 50 cents a bushel at the elevator and with tariffs piling up the farmer's cost of living, it is time for Canada to take a more vital interest in what is happening to the agriculturalists of Western Canada.

Whether that interest will result in a government campaign to institute more diversified farming, or whether it will result in tariff changes, or in assisted marketing methods, the point is that the farmer must become a cardinal factor in the governmental policies of this Dominion if Canada is to continue her growth and progress.

ALL ABOARD FOR THE MOON

Scientists in Princeton University have taken moving pictures of dawn on the earth's moon. In Berlin a professor is planning a hydrogen-propelled rocket that, he hopes, will be able to carry human beings to our satellite.

Within a few years we shall know a lot more about the moon and about our sister planets than we do today. New telescopes may reveal life on several planets, and that will spur inventors to evolve means of communication.

The earth has been fairly well explored. Great areas of it, truly, still await the pressure of men's feet, but we know rather accurately what these areas are like. Our investigation of the world has been interesting, provoking thought and achievement.

But how interesting it will be when we start to explore other worlds! We shall meet new forms of life, gain new ideas, find out different—and we hope, better—ways of doing many things.

THE REAL BURNS

Fervent admirers of Robert Burns have achieved such a measure of choler over the love revelations contained in a new biography of the poet that they have petitioned the British home secretary to have the book suppressed.

God forbid that the home secretary should act on their petitions!

It is a profitable and natural thing to elevate the greatest men of our race into gods in the matter of achievement.

Just as soon as a great man dies, his friends start telling lies about him and believing them. They add feet to his intellectual stature and divinity to the quality of his deeds.

There is nothing wrong with that. If we are to pattern ourselves after our geniuses, those geniuses might just as well be intellectual demigods.

But there is no reason why they should be pigs.

If Robert Burns felt himself impelled to make passionate love to a beautiful girl on a bridge in the moonlight, why lie about it?

If William Shakespeare, in a particularly licentious age, found it necessary to have an affair with a gamekeeper's daughter, why should we gloss his frailty over and try to picture him as a moral icicle?

We admire our heroes for their great intellectual and spiritual qualities. But we love them for their likeness to ourselves.

If we eliminated from the religion of Jesus Christ, His capacity for suffering, His weariness, His very human fits of anger, His hunger and His thirst, what appeal would be left?

If our divine leaders had to make themselves human to appeal to us, why should we try to make our human leaders divine?

We are interested in the real Burns, the real Shakespeare, the real Dickens. And we should be allowed to know just what those realities are.

BROWNLEE DECLARES WHEAT POOL CERTAIN TO MEET OBLIGATIONS

Edmonton, Alta., Oct. 29.— In answer to Premier Bracken's statement, that the prairie provinces may be called upon to pay $10,000,000 of the Wheat

Pool guarantee, Premier Brownlee today said:

"What the crop loss may be is entirely a matter of speculation. The governments are not being pressed at present to meet the guarantee."

So far as Alberta is concerned, Mr. Brownlee stated he could say "there would certainly be no ultimate loss to the province; it will all be taken care of by the Wheat Pool."

Has Ample Assets

Winnipeg, Oct. 29.—(By the Canadian Press.)—The Winnipeg Tribune, in a front page article published this afternoon, says, in part:

"Whatever the amount may be, the assets of the Manitoba pool are pledged to the province as security for any money the government may have to pay under the guarantee given the banks."

The Tribune added that members of the government declared today that the Manitoba pool has ample assets to pay any monies the government may have to meet on its guarantees. It was noted that each government, in sanctioning the guarantees, made an agreement with its provincial pool by which the pool gave a blanket hypothecation of its assets for possible losses, the pool pledges having validity over claims of any other creditors. The Tribune adds:

"According to the last financial statement of the Manitoba wheat pool, that for the year ended July 31, 1929, the assets of the pool on the balance sheet and reserve account statement were shown at $4,334,425. Since this statement was issued the physical assets of the pool have not been impaired."

MACLEOD BAND GAVE HIGHLY ENTERTAINING CONCERT SUNDAY NIGHT

The Macleod Band gave a most successful concert in the Empress Theatre on Sunday evening after the church services, when the theatre was well filled with an appreciative audience. This is the first concert that the band has given under the new leadership of Jack Griffin, band-master, and from the laudatory comments expressed by a large number of persons who were present it is hoped that it will not be the last, but that the band will give these concerts regularly this winter. For the short time that Mr. Griffin has been conductor he deserves much praise for the excellent performance of the selections which the band played on Sunday night. The band selections were inter-spaced with vocal and instrumental numbers, all of which were rendered in splendid style, and were appreciated by the large audience, as was evidenced by the encores of every number, in fact the talent displayed by some of the performers was an eye-opener to the audience.

Mayor J. Swinerton was chairman, and in opening made a few remarks with regard to the band, stressing the fact that such an organization was a benefit to the town, and asked for the loyal support of the citizens to provide funds for the carrying on of its work.
The programme presented was as follows: March, "Adventurer;" Overture, "The Belle;" Vocal Solo, Mrs. Dorothy Smith Jones; Trombone Duet, Messrs. W. N. Griffin and Alex
McDonald; Sax Solo, Ivor Brooks; "Flower Girl" the Band; Instrumental Trio, Mrs.
R. Vise, violin; Miss Molly Griffin, cello; Miss Irene Young, L.A.B., piano; Vocal Solo, Mrs.
James Young; Hawaiian Guitar Solo, Walter Jordan; Idyll,
"Glow-Worm," the Band; Hymn, "Abide with Me." The audience joined in singing 3 verses of this hymn, Mr. Griffin reading the verses. The National Anthem closed the programme.

HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION — CLEAN HANDS

Our hands are in constant use and, in the course of a few hours, they come into contact with a considerable number of articles. It is because our hands are used so much and that they are consequently almost sure to be soiled that, unless properly cared for, they may be our greatest enemies.

In previous articles we have stated that the germs of disease leave the body in its secretions. The secretions from the nose and mouth are those which most frequently carry disease. We should always deal with such secretions as if we knew them to contain disease germs. The spread of disease depends upon whether the germ-laden secretion from one person gains entrance into the body of another person.

The spread of disease may be direct, as when the germs are transferred by the droplets which are thrown out into the air by uncovered coughs and sneezes. It may also be indirect, and it is in the indirect spread that the hands play an important part.

In considering the indirect spread, there are two important points to be kept in mind.
Disease germs die comparatively quickly outside of the body.
They require heat and moisture to preserve their lives; drying destroys them, and sunlight kills them.

What we have to fear are the our hands are warm and humid, germs can and do persist on them for some time.

In using the handkerchief, in covering a cough with the soil our hands with the nose we soil objects which we someone else may touch these

As long as disease germs re-not do us any harm. They must gain entrance into our bodies if they are to cause mis-protect ourselves from the dangers with which our hands

First of all, we should keep using a toothbrush. It is a dangerous habit, that of touch-

Most important however is that the hands should always

G. G. COOTE, M.P., BLAMES FAULTY SYSTEM OF CREDITS FOR SOME OF ECONOMIC ILLS NATION SUFFERING

That the present critical period characterized by such features as unemployment, increasing debt and lack of purchasing power is due in some great degree to the faulty system of credit, was the contention of G. G. Coote, M.P., who spoke before the audience of the Adult Study club of Granum, meeting in the United church on Wednesday evening of this week.

He advocated a system of control of the credits of Canada by and for the people, and said that this was not at all recommending that branches of such a national bank should replace those banks now operating, but that some great social institution should have within its control those matters of inflation and deflation, and the issuing of necessary credit, etc., that there might be purchasing power, wherein the people at large, and not a small coterie of financiers, might reap the benefit.

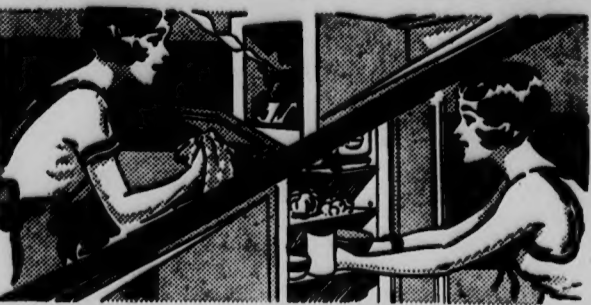

Mr. Coote, an ex-banker and a close student of finance, gave a clear and comprehensive treatment of the Canadian system of currency and credits, and was followed closely by a good audience. After his address a period was allowed for forum discussion, and many pertinent matters were debated. Mr. Coote was accompanied by Mrs. Coote, and they were tendered a hearty vote of thanks for their help at the Adult Study club. The chair was occupied for the evening by Rev. A. H. Rowe, minister of the United church.

A committee consisting of Mesdames McDougall, Smith and Clarke, and Messrs. Jas. Blair, A. MacGregor, R. H. Lawrie, G. R. Torrence, W. B. Rogers and A. H. Rowe was named by the club to prepare for future meetings. The committee met and decided to recommend for the next fortnightly meeting on Nov. 12 that a discussion be held on "World Trade and World Peace" or some such topic. It was decided to seek for a special speaker on this subject.

There was a unanimous feeling that everyone of the community interested in such studies as are being promoted should be given invitation to the meetings of the club which has no denominational lines and sponsors frank discussion. Several members of the committee announced their intention of securing each a copy of some valuable book along the line of social questions of the hour, and then of putting it at the disposal of those who would like to study such a book. Thus a kind of circulating study course can be arranged.

Some discussion took place as to whether women might better withdraw, and thus make the club a men's organization, but whereas this was proposed by some of the women, the meeting felt that women are quite as interested in these questions of the hour as are the other sex. It was

A Few Short Cuts To 3 Meals a Day

BY EDWINA NOLAN

Director of Home Service, General Electric Refrigeration Department
THREE meals a day! A thousand meals a year! It's a never-ending problem for housewife and mother. But there are innumerable short cuts in solving the problem. Every homemaker knows that it is the actual cooking of meals which is most confining. She can double up on this time-consuming process by planning menus for two or three days ahead and by cooking in quantities sufficient to form the foundation for two or more meals if she has proper facilities for keeping food. Here is how the plan works out:

(1) Enough potatoes are boiled to mash for dinner and to serve creamed or au gratin the next day.
(2) Enough spinach is cooked so that there can be a cream of spinach soup for another meal and spinach and egg au gratin for supper or luncheon.

(3) A whole ham is boiled, cooled and put in the electric refrigerator and at dinner time it is given the final half-hour roasting and served hot; the remainder being made into ham and macaroni casserole for another dinner, and devilled ham sandwiches for luncheon.

(4) Twice as many apples as will be needed to serve with roast ham are baked. Thoroughly chilled baked apples with a custard sauce make a delicious dessert, or they may be reheated and served with cream.

(5) Soft custards are made in larger quantities because they have many uses and they keep well in tightly-covered jars.

With such preparations made and the food tucked safely away in the electric refrigerator, assuring proper preservation, most of the work is done for the day. In as short a time as 20 or 30 minutes it is possible to have dinner on the table.

MAN KILLED IN ACCIDENT —HERMAN MOLLER OF CAMROSE DISTRICT FATALLY INJURED — PINNED UNDER TRUCK

When a truck driving east out of Granum, and about a mile from town was turned over in the ditch Saturday at noon, one man was killed and the other three occupants received injuries more or less serious.

The dead man is Herman Moller of the Camrose district who was driving the truck. It is said that the other two men received broken bones, Arthur DeCook, a broken arm, and Frank Demaere, fractured ribs, while the other young man, named Muhly, was shaken up severely. The latter's home is at Claresholm while Demaere and DeCook reside here.

It is said that the truck ran over the edge of the high grade and while trying to drive out again and going rather fast, it turned under it. He was still living when brought to Dr. Cohens office in Granum, but was frightfully injured and lived only a few minutes.

The deceased man was in the early twenties, and had come to this vicinity in the early fall with a companion named Nordmo, who formerly lived here. He had spent the season principally with the threshing crew of Thomas Dimm, and since threshing ended had been staying at the DeCook home. Attempts are being made to communicate with his family near Camrose. An inquest is proceeding this evening.

THAT ACCOUNT OF YOURS

We refer, of course, to that account of yours with us. You wish to pay it we are sure, but you are met with the argument that there is no more obligation to pay your grocery account than there is to pay any other account you may owe. This is one of those half truths that get us confused in our thinking. If you can pay only part of your bills then your grocery account ought to have first consideration. More than likely there is no security to protect this account, yet you require food supplies daily. Your first obligation is to provide food for your family. The instinct of self preservation demands that you pay your food bills first.

Protect your grocer. Don't let him go under. It is your business to keep him in business. You need him in your business. This is sound common sense that will stand up against any argument.

An investment of nearly twenty thousand dollars has been given Macleod one of the best equipped winter sport arenas in the west. In its operation the policy of the councillors will be to make it possible for every child to participate in skating, and for the community in general to have cost price service at this centre of social and athletic activity. A few years ago the six figure indebtedness of Macleod was a nightmare in municipal finance circles. Today the town treasury is a model of solvency, with a substantial reserve and a healthy income from utilities. The new

YELLOW STOCKINGS

One of the oldest Boys' Schools in the British Isles is known by the strange name of "The Bluecoat School", or Christ's Hospital. Like many other famous English Schools it has centuries of history behind it. Wearing long blue coats and bright yellow stockings right up to the knees, the boys make a striking picture in the London streets or in the playground. Their attire is always the same, whether in or out of school; and despite the weather they go hatless constantly.

The Prince of Wales visited them lately and gave a fine speech on the opening of the New Science Building. Over 800 scholars were present. Their Royal visitor by virtue of his princely office, knows the imperial value of a sound education. He emphasized the importance of study from an imperial standpoint, and impressed on the boys the value of mastering such subjects, as geography, biology, etc.

One sees more and more how universal is the appreciation of a sound education and its work to our children. In a recent pamphlet issued in Alberta, the Minister of Education says, "It is of the utmost importance as a piece of national insurance that our boys and girls receive the opportunity to fit themselves physically, mentally and morally for the proper discharge of all their duties and responsibilities both public and private."

Among the many agencies at work along these lines is the Junior Red Cross in the schoolroom, teaching by new methods health, citizenship and service. The Superintendent will be glad to mail you information on this work. Write to 407, Civic Bldg. Edmonton.
